Family Sunday Workshop  1:30 to 3:00 pm Rotary Education Centre	Programme Outline Every Sunday is Family Sunday at the MacLaren. Regional artists will lead creative projects that families complete together. Ideal for children ages 3 to 8 years old. Sign up in person at 1:00 pm on the day of the workshop, as space is limited. Fee is $5 per child/free for MacLaren Family membership holders (maximum of four children and two adults).
Sunday, January 6 With Heather Riley	Sharing Personal Stories Inspired by Two Legacies , an exhibition by regional artists Tanya Cunnington and Jill Price, each family member will create an artwork dedicated to another family member using caran d'ache crayons and watercolour paint. A short personal story will accompany each artwork. The artworks will then be compiled into a handmade folder for safe keeping.
Sunday, January 13 with Sean George	Sharing Personal Stories Inspired by Two Legacies , an exhibition by regional artists Tanya Cunnington and Jill Price, each family member will create an artwork dedicated to another family member using caran d'ache crayons and watercolour paint. A short personal story will accompany each artwork. The artworks will then be compiled into a handmade folder for safe keeping.
Sunday, January 20 with Sean George	Creative Collaged Portraits Inspired by Jason Dunda's exhibition A Hall of Unflattering Portraits , families will start this workshop with a discussion about the visual elements to include positive and negative space, symmetry and balance. Participants will then be inspired by a presentation about how artists capture these elements in their art. Families will create a collage using two different coloured papers to create a caricature of themselves adding an abstract pattern as a final touch.

Sunday, February 3 with Sean George	Celebrate Winterfest at the MacLaren! Join us for a creative Winterfest! Led by regional artist Sean George, families will have fun working collaboratively to create a series of mixed-media artworks inspired by all things winter—from the colours to shapes and textures of snowflakes and snow.

Sunday, February 10 With Heather Riley	Very Valentine Cards Celebrate Valentine's Day at the MacLaren! Regional artist Heather Riley will guide families to create a series of Valentine's Day cards using a variety of watercolour painting, bleeding tissue and mixed-media techniques.
Sunday, February 17 With Heather Riley	Point it Out! In this workshop, families will focus on the art of pointillism, looking at the technique of artists who have explored this art style for inspiration. Participants will create an acrylic painting on canvas board using paint and small brushes or Q-tips.
Monday, February 18 With Sean George	Celebrate Family Day: Collograph Family Portrait Join us for this family-themed printmaking workshop with regional artist Sean George! Each family member will design their body or face from cut and glued paper to print their family portrait in block printing ink.
Sunday, February 24 With Sean George	Celebrate Black History Month at the MacLaren! Join regional artist Sean George for an engaging workshop exploring the history, function, vibrant colours and patterns of Kente cloth! Families will work together using colourful paper strips, sharpies, and yarn to create a bold original Kente inspired design.
Sunday, March 3 With Sean George	Falling into Outerspace Regional artist Sean George will begin this workshop by presenting a series of artworks that focus on the art of portraiture and the use of foreshortening. Families will be inspired to work together to create a full body portrait with elements of foreshortening incorporated into an outer-space background. The portraits will then be cut and placed onto this background giving the perception of falling backwards into outer-space.
